Pocket Guide to Paris.

AREA AND POPULATION, 1896.

Area, 19,275 sq. acres, or about 30 sq. miles. P. 2,536,834.

Paris is encircled by a wall 21¼ miles in circumference, defended by 17 detached forts, and pierced by 66 gates or "Barrières," at which the "Octroi" is levied on taxable articles entering the capital.

The population of Paris at the end of the thirteenth century was nearly 200,000; in 1675, 540,000; in 1779, 600,000; in 1852, 1,053,762; in 1860 (including Faubourgs), 1,525,235; and in 1870, 1,825,274.

Chronology.—Name of town changed from Lutetia to Parisii, A.D. 360; Clovis expelled the Romans, 496; Charlemagne, king, 768; Louis I. (Le Débonnaire), king, 814; Paris sacked by Normans, 857 and 885; Palace, on present site of the Palais de Justice, begun, 987; Louis VI. (Le Gros) founded a palace on the site of the Louvre, 1108; Foundation-stone of Notre Dame laid by Pope Alexander III., 1163; City surrounded with a wall and turrets, 1180; University of Sorbonne founded, 1250; Philip IV. (Le Bel) founded the Parlement, or Courts of Justice, 1285; Charles V. (Le Sage), founder of the Royal Library, the Bastille, and the Palais de Tournelles, 1364; Plague epidemic carried off 50,000 persons, 1437-8; Introduction of printing, and establishment of post-office, 1461; Francis I. king, Palace of the Louvre and Hôtel de Ville begun, 1515; Tuileries erected, 1564; Massacre of St. Bartholomew, 1572; Henri III. assassinated at St. Cloud, 1574; Henri IV. assassinated by Ravaillac, 1610; Palais Cardinal (now Royal) begun by Richelieu, 1620; Jardin des Plantes laid out, 1635; Palais du Luxembourg constructed, 1615-20; Hôtel des Invalides constructed, 1671-5; Palais du Corps Législatif erected, 1722-90; Ecole Militaire built 1751; Panthéon built, 1764-90; Hôtel des Monnaies (Mint) erected, 1771-75; Revolution, 1789; Assembly of States General at Versailles (5th May), National Assembly (17th June), Oath of the Jeu de Paume (20th June), Storming of the Bastille (14th July), The "Femmes de la Halle" at Versailles (5th October), 1789; National Fêtes in the Champ de Mars, 1790; Escape of Royal Family from Paris, 1791; Storming of the Tuileries, 1792; Louis XVI. beheaded, 1793; Robespierre's fall and execution, 1794; Directory established, 1795; Establishment of the Consulate, with Bonaparte as First Consul, 1799; Attempt to assassinate Napoleon, 1800; Napoleon I. proclaimed Emperor, 1804; Entry of Allies into Paris, and abdication of Napoleon, 1814; Return of Napoleon, battles of Ligny and Waterloo, and banishment of Napoleon to St. Helena, 1815; Revolution of July, Louis Philippe elected king, 1830; Revolution, and establishment of a Republic, 1848; Napoleon III. elected Emperor, 1852; Surrender of Napoleon at Sedan, and Republic proclaimed, 1870; Capitulation of Paris, and entry of Germans, 1871; Evacuation of Paris by Germans, 1873.

CONVEYANCE DIRECTORY.

Omnibuses and Tramways.—These cross Paris in all directions, and are shown on the maps, the fares within Paris being the same on all the lines, viz., 30 c. inside, and 15 c. outside (impériale). The fares for places beyond the Fortifications are from 10 to 50 c. higher, according to the distance. There is a system of correspondances by which permission is granted to change from one line to another, and should no omnibus go in the direct route to the passenger's destination from the part of Paris in which he is, he may demand from the conductor a correspondance, which will convey him thither.

River Steamboats.—Three lines of small steamers ply on the Seine.—(1) The "Express" steamers, left bank, from Charenton to the Point du Jour (Auteuil); (2) the "Mouches," right bank, from the Pont d'Austerlitz to Auteuil; and (3) the "Hirondelles," from the Pont Royal, right bank, to St. Cloud and Suresnes. Fares—"Express," 20 c., on Sundays and holidays, 25 c.; "Mouches," 10 and 20 c.; "Hirondelles," 20 c. and 40 c.

Postal.—The principal entrance to the Hôtel des Postes, or G.P.O., is in the Rue du Louvre. There are numerous district offices. The ordinary offices are open daily, from 7 a.m. (8 a.m. in winter) till 9 p.m. Letters for evening trains must be posted at the ordinary offices before 5.30 p.m.; at the railway stations up to within five to ten minutes of the starting of the trains. The Poste Restante Office is at the G.P.O., and is open till 9 p.m. (Sundays, 4 p.m.).

The District Telegraph Offices are open till 9 p.m.; Avenue des Champs Elysées 33, Rue d'Amsterdam 19, Nord and Lyons railway stations until 11 p.m.; the offices at the Avenue de l'Opéra 4, and that at the Grand Hotel are open till midnight; but telegrams may be sent at any hour of the day or night from the offices at the Bourse, and Rue de Grenelle 103. Telephone between Paris and London, open day and night, office La Bourse.

Cabs (Fiacres or Voitures).—These may be hired for une course—a single drive, or à l'heure—by time. The following tables give the Tariff:—

Within the City.	From 6 a.m. in Summer (31st March to 1st Oct.), and from 7 a.m. in Winter (1st Oct. to 31st March), till 12.30 at night.		From 12.30 at night till 6 a.m. in Summer (31st March to 1st Oct.), and till 7 a.m. in Winter (1st Oct. to 31st March).

PUBLIC PARKS, &c.

Bois de Boulogne, situated at the west end of Paris.—Covers an area of 2,250 acres. It is covered with timber of various descriptions, and is intersected by broad roads and horse rides. It also contains several sheets of ornamental water, the principal of which is the Lac Inférieur, or lower lake, nearly three quarters of a mile in length, and 100 yards wide, and having in the centre two beautiful islands connected by a rustic bridge. A boat conveys visitors for 10 centimes to the islands, where there is a restaurant. The large lake abounds in water fowl, and is stocked with fish. A small lake in the north-west corner of the Bois, called the Mare de Madrid, is one of the prettiest spots in the park .. .. Ac 7

Bois de Vincennes, situated east of Paris.—Its area is about the same as that of the Bois de Boulogne, and the park is quite as picturesque. The centre is used by the military as a Champs de Manœuvres. In the N. is the fort of Vincennes, and in the S.E. corner the fortress of Gravelle. At the N.E. corner is the Lac des Minimes, a lake of about 20 acres in extent, and containing three islands. Reached by tramway from the Louvre, or rail from the Bastille .. .. .. Fb 15

Buttes Chaumont, situated at N.E. corner of Paris.—It is a beautiful park, covering sixty-two acres, and may be reached by tramway from the Arc de Triomphe, or by omnibus from the Champs-Elysées, or Louvre. The site was long used as a place of public execution, and was known by the name of Montfaucon .. .. Cd 6

Parc Monceau, Boulevard Malesherbes.—Covers ten acres, and forms one of the most charming resorts of Paris. It is best seen in the early morning. Open from daylight to midnight. At night it is lit up by electricity. Reached by tramway from the Madeleine or the Arc de Triomphe, or by omnibus AF from the Panthéon to Courcelles .. .. Bd 5

Parc de Montsouris, at the extreme S. of Paris.—Covers an area of forty acres of undulating ground. Père-Lachaise, or Eastern Cemetery.—The largest in Paris. Is named after the Jesuit confessor of Louis XIV., whose country-seat occupied the site of the present chapel. It covers an area of about 110 acres, and contains no less than 18,000 monuments. Among the tombs are those of Abelard and Heloise, to the right near the entrance; Casimir Périer; the tomb of Mlle. Rachel, in the Jewish Cemetery to the right on entering; that of M. Thiers, the statesman and historian. Other monuments are those of Gall, the phrenologist; Eugene Scribe, the author; Talma, the tragedian; Madame Lavoisier; Admiral Sir Sydney Smith; Beaumarchais, the dramatist; Marshal Ney; Marshal Suchet; Marshal Masséna; Béranger, the poet; Lord Seymour; Pradier, the sculptor; La Fontaine; Molière; Laplace, the mathematician; F. D. Beaujour, a former consul; Dios Santos; Michelet, the historian; Soldiers who fell in 1870-71; Eugène Berge, and numerous others well worthy of a visit. In the N.E. of the cemetery is the Mussulman burying-ground, from which the public are excluded. The most convenient way of visiting the cemetery is in a cab .. .. Dd 9

Rueil.—10 m. by rail from the St Lazare station. Once a residence of Cardinal Richelieu. The chief object of interest is the Parish Church which contains the tombs of the Empress Josephine and of Queen Hortense, the mother of Napoleon III. The monument and tomb are to the right of the altar, and the statue represents the Empress in a kneeling position. On the other side of the altar is a similar monument to Queen Hortense. 1½ m. distant is La Malmaison, with the Château in which the Empress Josephine resided after her divorce in 1809, and where she died in 1814.

St Cloud By tramway from the Quai du Louvre, rail (9½ m.) from St Lazare station, or steamer from the Pont Royal; fare 50 centimes outside. An agreeable route is by steamboat, from the Pont du Carrousel; fare 50 centimes. Fete from 7th September lasts four weeks. The palace, which was burned down during the siege of Paris in 1870, was erected originally in 1572 by a wealthy citizen. Here the capitulation of Paris was signed in 1815. The palace was a favourite summer residence of Napoleon III. The park, which forms the chief attraction of St Cloud, has a circumference of 10 miles, and contains several fountains, the principal of which, the Cascade, throws a jet of water to a height of 138 feet above the level of its basin. Before the war of 1870 the top of a small hill here was occupied with a lofty tower, La Lanterne Demosthène, or as it was popularly but improperly called, Lanterne de Diogène. The summit of this hill affords a fine view.

St Denis.—By three tramways from the Opera, Rue Scribe, the Madeleine and Place du Châtelet, or rail (4½ m.) from the Gare du Nord. Contains a Cathedral Church, celebrated as the burying-place of the kings of France. Tombs shown on week-days from 10 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.; gratuity.

Verrières.—By Chemin de Fer de Sceaux, Gare du Luxembourg.

Versailles.—By rail 14½ m. from St Lazare station (right bank), 10½ m. from Montparnasse station (left bank), or tramway from the Quai du Louvre. Contains the Palace, with its rich Museum; open to the public on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, from 11 till 4 in winter, and 5 in summer. On the way from the station to the Palace, in a small street off the Rue Sartory, is the tennis-court for the Jeu de Paume, in which the members of the Third Estate met in June, 1789. Approaching the Palace from the Rive Droite station, the statue of General Hoche is passed, and the Church of Notre-Dame, built in 1684. The Palace was begun in 1684 by Louis XIII., but actually built and finished by Louis XIV., and cost £40,000,000. Additions were made by Louis XV. and Louis XVIII. In the left wing is the hall where the Chambre des Députés met from 1871 to 1880 when they returned to Paris. The entrance to the Palace is in the Place d'Armes, the gateway in which leads into the Cour d'Honneur, adorned on each side with rows of statues, and in the centre with a statue of Louis XIV. in bronze. The Museé Historique was founded by Louis Philippe in 1832, and contains a large collection of historical pictures. Each picture is inscribed with the name of the artist, so that catalogues are unnecessary, and the visitor will readily find his way to every part of the Palace open to the public. The gardens were laid out by Le Notre, and are adorned with many statues and vases. The great fountains generally play on the first and sometimes on the third Sunday in each month from May to October, between 3 and 5 o'clock. The Grand Trianon, ¾ m. N.W. of the terrace of the Palace, is a villa of horse-shoe form, erected by Louis XIV. for Madame de Maintenon. The museum, containing a collection of state carriages, is in proximity. N.E. of this is the Petit Trianon, erected by Louis XV. for Madame du Barry. It was a favourite residence of Marie Antoinette.

Vesinet.—9¾ miles by rail from St Lazare. Race-course, where steeplechases are held.

Villejuif.—By tramway from Square Cluny.

Villeneuve St Georges.—By Chemin de Fer de Lyon, Boulevard Diderot.

The Handy Reference

ATLAS OF THE WORLD.

EDITED BY

J. G. BARTHOLOMEW, F.R.S.E., F.R.G.S., &c.

80 Folio Plates and 80 Octavo Plates, containing together 234 Maps and Plans.

42 Pages of Geographical Statistics, and a Complete Index of 56 Pages.

Strongly bound, half Roxburgh, gilt top, 7/6.
Full Morocco, gilt edges, 10/6.

COMPLETE. COMPACT. ACCURATE. ATTRACTIVE.

The Sixth Edition of the "Handy Reference Atlas" may be introduced to the Public as practically a New Work. It has been Remodelled and thoroughly Revised, about Eighty New Maps have been added, and the Text has been Re-written and Extended.

Although there are many complete and elaborate Atlases of the World, they are all more or less in such a large and unwieldy form, that reference to them whilst reading a newspaper or book, usually involves a considerable amount of trouble.

The collection of Maps, which is extensive and varied, will be found to present a trustworthy representation of the Physical and Political Geography of all the countries of the World. British Colonies and Possessions have been treated in exceptional detail, and several Original Maps have been inserted to illustrate the most prominent features in Physical and Commercial Geography.
